

Stepping Stones PRU Celebrate Neurodiversity Through Values

Stepping Stones have had a month celebrating and raising awareness of 'neurodiversity', using the school values as a base for many exciting and fund raising activities.

The focus of these activities has been on the talents, gifts and 'super powers' the children have. So the staff 'Bake Off' was based around super heroes and one of our wonderful staff made a Stepping Stones hero cake, which is holding up our core value.

We had a playground chalk competition where the children had to create a superhero who was able to promote or 'be' our values.

We had some fantastic examples, such as Caring Kitty, Curly Carer, Friendship Queen, Honest Diamond Man – when the sun shines on him, he reflects the rays onto people and they then become honest, Tolerance Man, Ravirespect – even if you don't like something such as ravioli-you still have to show respect).

We thoroughly enjoyed the events and the children embraced our values throughout.
